Richmond-Albany Has Ideal Naval Base Site

Terminal Advantages and Extended Coast Line Required

During the past week considerable space in the daily press has been devoted to the location of a naval base in the vicinity of San Francisco bay. Congressman C. F. Curry is reported as favoring Mare Island, while Congressman J. A. Elston has introduced a bill in the House of Representatives which includes sites at or near the cities of Richmond and Albany, railroad terminals for two transcontinental lines, which Mare Island does not possess. Some amateur newspaper writers imagine that a naval base is a small proposition, but 25 miles of frontage and highland would not be too much for this unit on the Pacific Coast.

It is important that Admiral Pond put particular stress upon the fact that the Albany site had all the ideal requirements although it was admitted that a channel would have to be dredged from deep water to the site.

There is no disposition on the part of The Terminal to agitate naval affairs that may prejudice the contract for a large dreadnaught at Mare Island but this paper will continue to present natural advantages as they exist.

A bill has been introduced by Congressman Elston to appropriate

Can You Guess the Next Postmaster?

The new Richmond postmaster to succeed S. F. Jenkins, whose term expires next July, has not received "official" notice of being the favored one. There are five candidates for the position, two of them newspaper men, it is said. Indications point to the present incumbent holding over for some time after the expiration of his term. Many will regret the retirement of Postmaster Jenkins, who has faithfully performed the duties of his office.

John W. Stemple has been appointed postmaster at Crockett, to succeed Thomas Edwards, who held the position for ten years. The new appointee is a graduate of University of California, 25 years of age, married and has a family, says the Signal.

J. J. McGrath Friday received the appointment of postmaster at San Mateo, and Monday his appointment was confirmed by the U. S. Senate through the efforts of Senator James D. Phelan.

$25,000 for the purpose of examining sites in the bay for the establishment of a naval station, including dry docks and repair shops capable of taking care of the largest dreadnaughts.

New Chamber of High School Is to Have Fine Gym.

A new Chamber of Commerce for Richmond was started last Friday night at Lincoln school auditorium which promises to develop into one of the strongest boosting bodies of the bay cities.

E. E. Grow was nominated temporary chairman, by Levi Boswell. Rev. F. S. Newsom of the Daily Independent, was nominated temporary secretary by C. B. O'Hara, publisher of the local labor organ, the News.

The chairman then declared both offices filled and working committees were then appointed.

The dues of the organization are $1.00 per month.

The personnel of the membership committee is as follows: Henry Wahl, M. A. Gorge, W. F. Pettilon, R. R. Ditzel, Mike Lucey, Dan Noziglia, C. B. O'Hara, W. A. Laselle and E. E. Grow.

A meeting will be held tonight at Lincoln school. Watch us Grow.

Richmond Family Feel Hunger Pangs

A little Richmond's girl's letter to her former teacher in Monterey county discloses the fact that there are hungry and destitute families in Richmond, some of whom are soliciting outside aid.

The letter above referred to is a pathetic one, and was forwarded to the editor of The Terminal by the teacher who is far famed for her school work of half a century spent in teaching and caring for little tots.

This good woman sent the little girl $3.00 by return mail, which no doubt raised the "bread famine" temporarily. There are four small children, one a baby, in this family. The father is out of work caused by having his hand crushed in machinery.

Supervisor Knott has been appealed to, and relief will no doubt be promptly given by the county, in addition to that contributed by generous citizens.

To Boys and Girls Who Are Ambitious

Prof. A. L. Anthony says: "I want to see the boys and girls of Richmond who are ambitious!"

Prof. A. L. Anthony, the new head of the Polytechnic Business College is organizing new classes in GREGG SHORTHAND and other commercial subjects, the MOST COMPLETE EVER OFFERED IN CONTRA COSTA COUNTY. Prof. Anthony is enthusiastic and hopes to enroll a large class of new students. As an inducement, he is giving a SPECIAL RATE—Six months for $60, for day school; or, six months for $25, night school. Payments may be made monthly when more convenient. Parents and young people are invited to call at the college for a personal investigation and interview. (See adv. in another column.)

Oscar Lee is some varnisher. A look at The Terminal desk attests his mastery of the varnish brush.

Watch for the Steam Roller.

To the Editor:

Storm sewers for Richmond are not badly needed. When the subject comes up, the skies clear and the waters are evaporated. The conditions of storms do not exist as this winter did, once in fifteen or twenty years. Get shipping in the harbor. Get more factories. Get more common sense subjects. Some taxpayer who is growing fat on the payroll of our city is, perhaps, the only one who talks storm sewers with outside personages, as Mr. Hyde. Where is Dr. Jekyll? The public have taxes and installments enough to pay. Don't kill your city. Tired Taxpayer.

A. Safine, the tailor, 206 Macdonald, made my suit look like new.

Bids for the enlargement of the high school gymnasium and other improvements in the building will be opened Monday, Jan. 24 at the high school board meeting. The improvements to be made will cost about $1800. Richmond has one of the best constructed high school buildings in the state. Visitors coming into Richmond via the 23d street car line are favorably impressed with the attractive school buildings, and especially the stately high school structure with its pretty surroundings.

More Wedding Bells For Cupid's Victims

Last Monday evening at the home of the groom, 412 Bissell avenue, Miss Lydia Nelson of Lindsborg, Kansas, became the bride of Arba J. Heald, assistant cashier of the First National Bank. The bride and groom are now touring the Southland and receiving congratulations from their many friends.

Horse Meat For Chickens Kerosened

A shipment of horse meat was made from Byron last week to supply the consumers of Petaluma. The health department inspectors of San Francisco discovered the cargo eponate and saturated the meat with kerosene to make the sale of it for human consumption impossible.—Post.

New Bay Cities Map Best Ever Issued

Baldwin & Howell, 318 Kearney street, S. F., have issued an illustrated folder map of the bay cities which is in demand because of its comprehensive and useful information. A postal card will bring one, or inquiry at any S. F. hotel will secure a copy—free.

City Council Awards Printing For 1916

The minutes of Monday night's council proceedings reads: "Moved by Hartnett, seconded by Gerlach, that the official advertising for year 1916 be given to the Record-Herald. Ayes—Ludewig, Gerlach, Fernald, Ogborn, Penny, Lane, Picton, Hartnett, Garrard. The official printing for the city of Richmond (which includes all forms of job printing, legal blanks, stationery, etc.) was awarded to the Independent Publishing Co. by the same vote.

This leaves the city printing "statu quo ante bellum" (as it was before the "war.")

Council Notes.

Health Commissioner C. R. Blake submitted his annual report of vital statistics Monday night.

Fire committee recommended the purchase of equipment for a repair shop for the fire department, as per proposal of the Eccles & Smith Co. Laid over one week.

Claims against the city were allowed in the sum of $1463.52.

Communication from Congressman J. A. Elston in regard to naval base was ordered filed.

The application of the Pullman Porters social club of 450 B street for a liquor license was referred to the license committee.

An ordinance to prevent the sale of impure and unwholesome milk passed its first reading.

The council accepted an invitation from the Chamber of Commerce of Oakland to a luncheon to be given Tuesday, January 25.

Local Happenings Condensed; Personal and General Comment

Weather indication—Rain!

Blind Jim of the county line is seriously ill.

There is a pay streak in East Richmond realty. Get busy.

It is reported that "Oyster Loaf" Joe, formerly a Richmond caterer, is pearl diving in Oakland.

A Hinkleman, Richmond property owner, of San Francisco, was in this city Tuesday, on business.

The many friends of Sheriff R. R. Veale are pleased to learn that he is recovering from his recent serious illness.

The painters dance was attended by a large crowd, and everybody has a good word for the brush artists.

G. E. Sneed is placing a new stock in his drug store at Fourth and Macdonald. In addition to his practice as an optician, Sneed is a registered pharmacist.

The Western Union Telegraph Company's messenger who skidded through the Home bakery plate glass window, is on duty, fully recovered, less $12.50 for the glass.

E. J. Deaver, who organized the Richmond Drive of Stags, has his headquarters at 1101 University avenue, West Berkeley, where he is busy organizing another drive.

E. Howard, editor of the Wichita Falls, Texas, Times has been appointed postmaster at that city. Mr. Howard succeeded O. T. Bacon (rep.), who served as postmaster for eight years.

Levi K. Bowen was appointed postmaster at Newark, Del., last week. He owns and edits the Ledger.

Ditch the "hammer."

We all "need the money."

Richmond is besieged by pan-handlers who want "a jitney for a cup (?) of coffee."

Tom, the Second Street barber, will soon be The Terminal newspaper's near neighbor.

H. W. Mills will give exhibitions with Capt. Bray's life-saving belt next Sunday at the foot of Third street at 2 p. m.

G. F. Imback, the well-known popular young man around town, has a good voice and some day will be booked for the big circuits.

Mine Host Bruns of the Terminal hotel is "fixing up" the corner of Second and Macdonald for an expanding business.

Buig Bros. have made some recent sales to eastern homeseekers that promise to bring a long string of investors from the land of extreme heat and cold.

County Supt. of Schools Haulon, Mrs. Henry J. Curry and Mrs. W. S. Tuning shipped from Martinez a big consignment of goods and cash to the Belgians.

Richmond's city library is said to be one of best conducted institutions of its kind in the state, the help being courteous and obliging.

H. A. Johnson and Walter G. Braine have sold their fuel and transfer business to E. H. Higgins of this city and his brother of Covelo, Mendocino county.

Sergeant of Police E. Jennings is reported as recovering from a pistol wound which Commodore Turner, a negro, inflicted while the officer was endeavoring to arrest him.

Martinez Safe on Water Question

The Martinez Gazette says that Messrs. Withers and Lasell have developed an inexhaustible supply of splendid water within six miles of Martinez, one well on the Withers tract flowing a million gallons per day. Several wells on the Christopher ranch, near Concord, are flowing over a million gallons per day. One well on the Withers-Lasell tract pumped over 700 gallons per minute for three days, which was a test that should give the Richmond water commission a good tip.

Go to Washington For Hetch Hetchy

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20.—Special.—City Attorney Percy V. Long and City Engineer O'Shaughnessy left last evening for Washington to appear before Secretary Lane in regard to Hetch Hetchy matters. John S. Dunnigan joined the party at Reno.

Sergeant Jennings Rapidly Improving

The latest bulletin to The Terminal newspaper from Craven Hospital reports that Sergeant Jennings is improving and has a good chance to recover.

Southern Pacific Calendar

The S. P. Calendar for 1916 is a work of art. The old mission is a beautiful setting, with the surrounding of flower gardens, all tinted in attractive colors of the printers' art.

Mrs. Fred C. Schram will have charge of the exercises at the Richmond club Monday afternoon.

The Hustler.

I'm the guy called printer's ink. I put hard times upon the blink. My face is black as Erebus. But I'm a lively, hustling cuss. I make men rich who once were poor. I'm on the job, I am for sure. I get work for the lab'ring man. And help to fill his dinner can. I aid girls who must earn their feed. I am the friend of all in need. I'm on the job both night and day, Away from work I never stay.

I am "A-I," "OK," and "IT," And I take a vacation—nit. I serve the small as well as great. (See business office for my rate.) I'm the guy who brings the dough, Just try me and you'll find it so.

AUSTRIAN SUCCESS GAINS HER ADRIATIC

Italy's Failure to Aid Montenegro Costs Her Domination of the Great Sea on East Coast

Battles in Eastern Galicia Are Increasing in Intensity as Terrific Assaults Are Made

Berlin.—The Russian losses on the Bessarabian front have been frightful, at one point 1000 dead having been left before the position of an Austrian brigade, declares the state ment.

The Austrians are continuing their pursuit of the Montenegrins on both the southwestern and eastern fronts. The official statement by the War Office received here January 15 from Vienna reports that at Cetinje 154 cannon, 10 machine guns and 10,000 rifles and much ammunition was captured.

Russian attacks on the Austrian positions in Eastern Galicia and on the Bessarabian front are increasing in intensity, the Russians repeatedly charging in masses, but the assaults all along the line have been repulsed, according to the official statement by the Austro-Hungarian War Office, given out today in Vienna and received here.

A report to Constantinople from the Persian frontier, says the Overseas News Agency, states that Turkish cavalry advancing against Mianidoh defeated Russian cavalry, the Russians fleeing toward Melik-Gendi.

Another cavalry detachment advancing toward Seldos defeated the Russians, who retreated toward Vurniah.

London.—Four British aeroplanes that were sent out from British positions on the Continent Wednesday, January 12, have failed to return to their base, according to the official announcement given out.

London.—No news has reached here concerning the reports from Rome that the Teutonic attack on Saloniki has begun. There has also been a cessation of reports of fighting in Montenegro and, according to a French wireless dispatch, since the Austrians captured Mount Leven there has been no further commencing of rifle fire.

London.—Another decisive stage in the Balkan situation has been reached with Montenegro now following Serbia in virtual absorption by the invading forces. It has been learned that Austria and Montenegro had come to an armistice, this being construed as the last net of the little country after having its capital, Cetinje, dominated by the Austrian capture of Mount Leven.

Whether King Nicholas will continue the unequal struggle is considered doubtful here, but the accepted view among the best posted men in London is that Montenegro has virtually passed under Austrian control. The chief significance of this does not lie in the small territorial acquisition, which is less than Serbia, but in Montenegro's Adriatic front, lying along the Austrian main offensive naval station of Cattaro, where dispatches announce the entire Austrian fleet, including three dreadnoughts, is assembled, and from which the recent naval raid against Italian troops going to the relief of Serbia were dispatched.

This further extension of Austria's Adriatic front, with the dominating naval center of Cattaro, is viewed as further tending toward the realization of Austria's object of making the Adriatic an Austrian sea and thus checking Italy's ambition to make it an Italian sea.

Italy has so much at stake that officials and diplomats have been waiting anxiously for the steps that Italy would take to relieve Montenegro and at the same time avert another Austrian extension on the Adriatic. They were aware that Italy had once before prevented Austria from gaining territorial concessions from Montenegro, near Cattaro, by emphatically objecting to the treaty made in 1912. As Italy was then a member of the triple alliance, Austria reluctantly yielded to the Italian objection.

It was believed that dynastic reasons would play a part in Italy's assistance of Montenegro as King Nicholas' daughter is the wife of the King of Italy, but help from that quarter did not arrive, as the Italian expedition was landed farther south in Albania, and has not been heard from since.

The London Times asserts that Italy's interests in Montenegro are as important as England's in the opening of the Dardanelles, and that the prospective annihilation of Montenegro will have far-reaching maritime consequences in the Mediterranean.

CUPID IS BUSY IN STANFORD CIRCLES

Many Weddings and Engagements With College Men and Girls in Roles

Stanford University.—Stanford folk returned after the Christmas vacation to find that the ranks have been depleted by the onslaught of Cupid. Engagements and weddings, with Stanfordites in the leading roles, are numerous.

Wilmer J. Gross of San Jose, former member of the 1916 class, who was forced to leave college near the end of last semester, owing to the illness of his father, will soon be married to Miss Dorothy Day of San Jose, a Stanford senior student. Gross is now in business in his home town. He is a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon Fraternity. While at college he was managing editor of the Daily Palo Alto, student newspaper, as well as a member of the Sigma and Sigma Phi fraternities, the dramatic organization for men. His bride-to-be is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority.

Miss L. Margaret Locke of Los Angeles and Sidney C. Walker of Holton, Kans., are betrothed. Both were members of the 1915 class from Stanford. Miss Locke is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority. While at college she served on the Young Woman's Christian Association cabinet. Walker is a member of Beta Theta Pi Fraternity.

Miss Callie Smith, a member of the 1914 class and woman's editor of the Daily Palo Alto while at Stanford, will be married in April to William Duncan Richardson, a graduate of Madison College, where he was a member of Beta Theta Pi Fraternity. Miss Smith organized the Stanford Woman's Press Club. She is a member of Delta Gamma Sorority.

Miss Cordelia McDonald, a Louisville (Ky.) belle, has announced her engagement to Kenneth N. Davis, former member of the 1916 class of Stanford. Davis is a member of Theta Delta Chi Fraternity.

Ernest D. Lakin, Stanford '08, and now a police judge in Palo Alto, married Miss Genevieve Howard of Palo Alto during December. Lakin is a member of the Acacia Club, Masonic college fraternity. The young people are living at 335 Middlefield road, Palo Alto.

Miss Lydia d'Avench and Joseph S. Turley, a Berkeley man taking graduate work in the education department at Stanford, were married on the top of Mount Tamalpais on Christmas day. The bride couple, minister and some friends of the young lovers "hiked" up the mountain to the unique setting of the ceremony. Turley was formerly of St. Louis, Mo. He and his bride are for the present making their home in Palo Alto.

SHERIFF'S SALE OF RANCH MAY BRING SUIT

Owners Protest Action Taken to Satisfy Claim

Marystown, N.J.—Litigation is threatened by the defendant as the result of the sale by an under sheriff from the steps of the courthouse here January 17 of the Tombs ranch of 1174 acres, near here, to Victor Sartori, a wealthy Sutter county dairyman, for $21,590.

The sale was to satisfy a judgment in the sum of $21,584.23 in the case of Mrs. Jane Tomb v. D. E. and Mrs. E. E. Jaques.

The defendants, through their attorney, C. W. Eastin of San Francisco, claimed they had arranged to sell the land in small tracts and had it subdivided, showing plans to prove the contention. Despite the objections, the sale was completed.

A Shade of Difference.
"Willie, didn't I tell you not to play with that Wiggins boy?"

"I ain't playin' wit' him, I'm fightin' wit' him," Michigan Gargyle.

Porterville.—Albert Kaufmann, son of J. J. Kaufmann, orange grower of the Tule river district, is in the hospital in a serious condition as the result of injuries inflicted by an enraged bear at the Kaufmann ranch. According to the Athens correspondent of the Giornale d'Italia. He also reports that a bombardment of the British line to the Doiran zone proceeded all day Monday, January 10.

The German commander of the attacking forces, says the correspondent, will make use of Austrian, Bulgarian and Turkish forces. The participation of the Turks has been doubtful, he adds, but it is now certain that they will be included in the attacking army.

CHAS. A. PRINGLE'S BODY ARRIVES IN S. F.

Grace Cathedral Crowded With Friends of Man Slain by Mexican Outlaws

San Francisco.—The body of Charles A. Pringle, the San Francisco mining man killed in the Santa Ysabel massacre last week, arrived in this city last Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock on the Sunset Limited.

Pringle's four brothers—William B., Edward J., Sydney and Covington—received their dead at the depot, escorted it to the undertaking parlor at Geary and Divisadero streets, viewed the remains and ordered the casket sealed at once. Mrs. Cornelia Pringle, the mother of the dead man, was mercifully spared the ordeal of viewing her murdered son's body.

According to Edward J. Pringle, his brother's body was fully embalmed and made ready for burial at El Paso. No effort was made to examine it to disclose the nature of the wounds received from the Mexican bandits or to ascertain their number. Only the face was viewed for a brief moment by the four sorrowing brothers. The order to seal the casket followed.

Attendants at the undertaking parlors asserted that a small bruise on the left cheek might have been caused by a bullet.

Funeral services over the remains of the late Charles, Alton Pringle were held at Grace Cathedral, California and Taylor streets, at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon.

More than 2000 friends of the deceased attended the services, filling the vast crypt of the cathedral to the doors. Floral offerings blanketed the casket and filled every foot of space around the pulpit and choir.

The service, which was simple and impressive, was conducted by Rev. Hugh Montgomery of Menlo Park, of whose church Charles Pringle was a communicant.

There was no sermon and no eulogy. Rev. Mr. Montgomery read the Episcopal ritual for the burial of the dead and uttered a brief prayer for the departed.

The remains were taken to the cathedral from the home of Covington Pringle at Clay and Steiner streets shortly after noon. As the casket was borne through the doors the organ softly breathed the solemn strains of "Ave's Death" from the Peer Gert suite of Grieg. Other organ numbers during the service were Tchaikovsky's "Chanson Triste," Massenet's "Melodie" and "Show Me Thy Ways, O Lord," adapted to Handel's Largo.

Baritone Solids, "Guide Me, O Thou Great Jehovah," "The Lord Is My Shepherd" and "Nearer, My God to Thee" were sung by Lowell Redfield. The first of these was a life-long favorite of Charles Pringle.

At the close of the service, the casket, completely covered with flowers, was moved slowly down the aisle, preceded by the pallbearers, while the organ intoned the Chopin "Funeral March" and the vast audience stood with bowed heads.

Following the casket were the mourners, members of the immediate family of the dead. They were Mrs. Cornelia Pringle, the mother; E. J., Covington, William B. and Sidney Pringle, brothers of the dead man, and their wives.

The pallbearers were Stanley Moore, Arthur Chesbrough, William de Fremery, Dwight Hutchinson, Roy McCabe, Burling Tucker, Bernard Lamsome and Harry Bates, all old friends of the deceased.

From Grace Cathedral the funeral party proceeded to the ferry. Intendant, which was private, took place in Mountain View Cemetery, Piedmont.

MASONIC SERVICES AT FUNERAL OF W. D. PEARCE

Los Angeles.—The funeral of W. D. Pearce, one of the Americans killed by bandits near Santa Ysabel, Chihuahua, last Monday, was held here last Monday. Services at the cemetery were conducted by the Masonic lodge.

4 KILLED ON DIVER E-2; TEN INJURED

Mysterious Explosion on U. S. Undersea Craft in Dry Dock at New York Navy Yard

New York.—Four men were killed and ten others injured, five of them dangerously, in an explosion which occurred last Saturday afternoon on the submarine E-2 while the craft was undergoing repairs in dry dock at the New York Navy Yard. One of the men killed was an enlisted electrician and the other three civilian workers. At least three of the ten now in hospitals are not expected to live.

The dead are: Roy B. Seaber, electrician, second class, Cleveland; James H. Pock, civilian, general helper, Brooklyn; J. P. Schultz, civilian, machinist, Brooklyn; Joseph Logan, civilian, general helper, Brooklyn.

The injured are: L. L. Miles, chief electrician, Brooklyn; Raymond Otto, electrician, Middleburg, Md.; Guy H. Clark, Jr., Frankfort, N. Y.; John Halsey, Baltimore, Md.; James Lyons, civilian; Henry Zoll, civilian; Otto Hassert, civilian; Richard Heyne, civilian; Michael Poyser, civilian; August Kapin, civilian.

Although the detonation was terrific, the submarine itself, from the outside, shows none of the effects of the explosion, the second fatal accident of its kind in the history of the United States Navy. The interior apparatus was badly shattered, but so tight was the vessel's shell that there was no means of escape for gas which accumulated, and it was more than an hour after the blast before the work of recovering the bodies could be completed.

A ladder was blown up through the conning tower and fell 150 feet away. The injured men and one body were removed soon after the accident, but the bodies far down in the craft could not be reached until the gas had been blown out by compressed air. Soon after the explosion several naval officers led a rescue party into the dry dock, but were partly overcome by gas fumes when they attempted to descend into the vessel. It was then that compressed air pipes were run into the shell and the gas forced out.

CONVICT IS FUGITIVE IN THE MOUNTAINS

Lassen County Prisoner Escapes; Leaps Out of Train Window

Reno.—J. J. Vernen, convicted at Susanville, Cal., of horse-stealing and housebreaking and sentenced to a long term in San Quentin, is a fugitive in the snowy wastes of the Nevada-California desert. He jumped from the window of a moving train at Laughton Springs January 16, and escaped from Sheriff A. C. Hunsinger of Lassen county.

Search revealed the tracks of Vernen in the snow and the trail was followed to the bank of the Truckee river, where it was lost.

Vernen was arrested near Reno several weeks ago at the request of the Lassen county authorities. While being brought to this city by Sheriff Ferrel he attempted to leap from the automobile, at the same time endeavoring to grab the Sheriff's rifle. He was subdued by a deputy sheriff.

CARRANZA STOPS SALE OF PULQUE IN MEXICO

New York.—A sale of pulque, the strong spirituous drink popular among Mexicans, has been prohibited throughout the country by the Carranza Government according to word received by Dr. Alfredo Catargil, Mexican Consul-General at New York.

In its place, the Consul-General says, the Carranza Government will endeavor to encourage the use of light wines and beer. Pulque has been called the curse of Mexico.

Later Dr. Catargil said the sale and manufacture of mescal and tequila, deemed equally harmful, will be prohibited by the Carranza Government.

Marysville.—In delving through the records at the courthouse here a local abstractor has gleaned some interesting information. Chief among the facts learned is that the cost of a lead pencil in 1851 was $2.50, as against 5 cents at the present time. The appraisement in the estate of the late Evelyn Woolford included an item for $2.50 for a lead pencil and $22.50 for a pair of shoes. The inventory was filed March 4, 1851.

AKED IS SELECTED TO STAY ABROAD

Ford Party Elects Members of a Permanent Peace Board to Stay in Europe

The Hague.—The Ford peace expedition has elected the following American members of the permanent peace board, to sit in Europe indefinitely with the purpose of using all efforts to settle the war:

William Jennings Bryan, Henry Ford, Miss Jane Addams, Rev. Charles F. Aked and Mrs. Joseph Fels of Philadelphia.

Five other members will be chosen as alternates.

The board will be composed of an equal number of members from the various neutral countries, and will remain in The Hague or Stockholm, with the financial backing of Ford.

Each member will receive a salary, and the entire expenses of the board probably will amount to $500,000 yearly. Dr. Aked announced that he would offer his resignation from his San Francisco church.

Lively discussions among the members of the expedition over the methods of choosing the members of the permanent board marked the election. After the slate had been drawn and offered as the choice of Ford, its adoption being urged because Ford was the financial backer of the party, John D. Barry of San Francisco branded the scheme "a conspiracy to railroad the selection without reference to the members." He said it would be considered a farce in the United States.

This plan was finally withdrawn, and the method of popular election adopted. This lasted all day.

Judge Ben B. Lindsey of Denver refused to accept a nomination to the permanent board, but probably will remain in Europe indefinitely in the interest of orphans of the warring nations.

Dr. Aked said respecting his election: "I will offer my resignation to my church. If they desire to keep me without salary I will return after peace is restored, otherwise I will seek a new job."

The body will choose later between The Hague or Stockholm for the sittings of the permanent board.

The election of Ford and Miss Addams was unanimous. Bryan was opposed by two votes. About sixty delegates attended the meeting, and all were described as having the voting power. When the meeting opened, some of the members contended that the party were merely Ford's guests and should do as he dictated. One member proposed that a committee composed of Ford officials should select the delegates.

MUST ACCEPT RESIGNATION. No Other Course Open in Regard to Aked, Says Trustee.

Commenting on the announcement that Dr. Charles Frederick Aked, among those appointed on the Ford permanent peace board, had announced he would resign the pastorate of the First Congregational Church of San Francisco, I. H. Morse, chairman of the Board of Trustees, said there would be no other course but to accept the resignation.

"Until we have Dr. Aked's resignation before us, no action can be taken," said Morse, who has been in charge of the affairs of the church during the pastor's absence. "If he tenders his resignation, it will have to be accepted."

Dr. Aked built up a reputation as one of the foremost preachers in Great Britain and this country. His fame as a pulpit orator is international. Before accepting the call to the First Congregational Church of San Francisco in April, 1911, he was pastor of the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church in New York, where he had John D. Rockefeller as one of his parishioners. He took that pulpit in 1907.

An Englishman by birth, having been born in Nottingham, August 27, 1864, Dr. Aked decided to cast his fortunes with America when he received a call to the fashionable Gotham church. After arriving in San Francisco Dr. Aked took out his first papers and became an American citizen June 14, 1913. Prior to leaving England Dr. Aked was pastor of Pembroke Chapel, Liverpool, for seventeen years, during which time he made a record for freedom of speech and of thought, and earned a reputation as a spokesman for the newest forms of social democracy.

He Couldn't Get Even.

"Here, here, little boy," said the benevolent person, "what makes you cry that way?"
"A feller poisoned my dog," was the reply.
"There, there," said the benevolent person, "don't take it so badly."
"But," responded the boy, "the feller that poisoned my dog has only got a cat."—Indianapolis Star.

HUERTA, EXILED SOLDIER, IS DEAD

Former Provisional President of Mexico Passes Away at His Home in El Paso

El Paso, Tex.—General Victoriano Huerta, former Provisional President of Mexico, died at his home here at 8:35 p. m., January 13.

General Huerta, who succeeded General Francisco I. Madero in executive power in Mexico City, and later left Mexico, died of sclerosis of the liver. He was surrounded by his family and servants when the end came. His death was not unexpected.

J. Eliseo Robles, private secretary to Huerta, issued the following statement shortly before the latter's death:

"In the actual moment of gravity to General Huerta, I wish to state that the unjust and cruel conduct of the United States Government has produced his condition."

"When he was President of Mexico he gave all kinds of guarantees to Americans, regardless of the fact that he had difficulties with their Administration. In this country he was thrown into jail like a common criminal."

GENERAL HUERTA'S CAREER. Army Officer, Provisional President and Exile From Country.

General Victoriano Huerta was a professional soldier, and as such he had been known, up to the overthrow of President Francisco Madero, for his loyal support of the existing government. He fought loyally for President Porfirio Diaz until the latter's fall, and when Diaz was no longer chief executive Huerta fought for Francisco de la Barrera, the Provisional President. After Francisco Madero was elected Huerta found it to be his duty to support one who had long fought as a rebel. His loyalty was not challenged until the Felix Diaz revolution in Mexico City, in February, 1913, when the Madero government was completely overthrown and Huerta himself elevated to the Presidency.

Huerta devoted himself to the military career at an early age. Born at Chihuahua in 1854, he entered the Military Academy at Chapultepec at the age of 17, and passed through the full course to graduation in 1875, when he was commissioned second lieutenant of engineers. During his academic term he was known for his predilection for scientific studies, particularly astronomy and mathematics.

When Porfirio Diaz began his reorganization of the Mexican army, Huerta was promoted Captain of Engineers, and while holding this rank, devised the plan for a Mexican general staff corps. He was an active member of the Military Map Commission, created to draft a staff map of Mexico on a large scale, and he had charge of all the astronomical work of the commission's leading exploring and surveying parties over the widest regions of the republic.

During the ensuing years, Huerta saw much active service. In 1901 he left the staff and took command of the infantry in the campaign against the Yaqui Indians. After this campaign he was again put in charge of the general staff's topographical work in Sonora. He participated in subsequent Yaqui campaigns, and also in the campaign in Yucatan against the Mayo Indians. As a reward for his Indian service, Huerta was given the rank of Brigadier-General, and once more detailed to the general staff.

SISTERS MEET AFTER 40 YEARS' SEPARATION

Were But Few Days Travel Apart, But Had Never Visited

Sacramento. Although separated from each other by not more than a few days by rail or water, two sisters met in this city January 17 for the first time in a little over forty years.

Mrs. James M. Elliott of Peachland, B. C., arrived in Sacramento to visit her sister, Mrs. Charles Clark, whom she had not seen since their girlhood days.

The two families have been in constant communication, but have not seen each other in a generation.

Grass Valley.—Both this city and Nevada City are still virtually without water supply. Owing to snow blockades, resulting from repeated storms, little progress has been made in opening the ditches, and several days may elapse before an adequate supply is obtained. In places it will be necessary to cut through ten feet of snow. Little is known here concerning the situation in Sierra county, as all stage lines and most of the telephone lines are out of commission. At Nevada City over a dozen buildings collapsed from the weight of snow.

CALOMEL MAKES YOU SICK, UGH!

"Dodson's Liver Tone" better than calomel and can not salivate.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quick-silver, calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all kinds of other ailments, you need a dose of Dodson's Liver Tone. It is a powerful purgative, but it is so gentle that it does not harm the system. It is a guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salivate.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day. It loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe—ADV.

Knife the Best Weapon.

"Today the defense stands pat on earthworks, wire and machine guns. The attack has tried gas, petrol, bayonets, siege artillery, field artillery, grenades and mines, and has come out, generally speaking, second best. Trench mortars have not developed the requisite accuracy nor the requisite destructive power. High explosive shells in sufficient quantities have accomplished the best offensive work, and the infantry is depending more and more on a short, heavy knife, which is the best for work underground or in the dark. To sum up: Killing the defenders of a position is accomplished by shells fired at least two miles away on the average; and, secondly, by what the French call body-to-body fighting, for which a knife is the best weapon. The training of infantry on the continent will in the future, undoubtedly include the technique of hand-to-hand struggles—for which physical agility and strength must be developed."—New Republic.

The Defective Baby.

At a time when politicians and generals have to decide almost every day whether to purchase a trench or a hill at the cost of so many human lives, the death of a helpless baby has set a whole nation talking. This happens to be a nation which cannot boast that it cares supremely about its babies, for hundreds of thousands of them die every year of preventable causes. They die of tetanus which could be prevented, of milk that could be kept clean, of neglect that could be remedied. They die because their fathers are underpaid, because their mothers are overworked; they are run over on city streets because there are insufficient playgrounds; they are infected by dirt diseases; they are starved. Given a chance in life most of them would become happy and useful. They are refused that chance because public opinion is too indolent, because many lawyers and business men are too greedy, because politicians are cowardly and ignorant. Every year herds of fine human beings are condemned to death because it costs too much to save them. But the refusal to keep alive a deformed idiot has become a moral issue throughout the nation.—From the New Republic.

FINISH IN THE WASTEBASKET

That Receptacle the Last Resting Place of Ideas Which Have Failed to Survive.

The wastebasket is a symbol of oblation. To it are consigned the failures and the "has-beens," old love letters, appeals that meet with no response, things emptied of their significance by time. It is the grave of dead thoughts. What a mass of human effort and emotion its contents represent! The merest printed circular, rung there with hardly a glance, stands for long hours of eager planning by somebody and the skilled labor of many hands. Men have striven with the utmost of their ability to win your interest—and have failed. The wastebasket records their failure.

Those little ink-inscribed bits of paper that lie submerged in its depths are pieces of human documents; letters of friendship, full of cordiality and harking back to pleasant experiences; family letters, expressing loyal affection and giving word of those at home; letters that once made the heart beat quick. At first a joy, they became an accumulation and are now a riddance.

There is a popular magazine of last January. How utterly flat and stale it seems! The heroes and heroines that stalk, chatter and pose through its pages are now forgotten. The great man eulogized in a glowing article has since fallen into disfavor. The big names flaunted on the cover have a look of mockery. The "most gripping story ever written" has been superseded by a more gripping one. The "brilliant comedy success" puffed by the dramatic critic has left the boards for ever.

In among these "has-beens" are a host of "might-have-beens." Inchoate ideas, jotted down but never consummated; letters that were written but never sent; plans for homes that were never built; dazzling schemes abandoned out of four that they were visionary. Aspirations, propensities—how they might have changed the world for some of us!

Few things escape you long, old Juggernaut! One after another, they lose their hold and fall into you. And you are always waiting.

To mortuis saluamus!—Judge.

Life Struggle of the Trees.

An interesting light is thrown on the longevity of the trees that grow along the timber line of the Rocky mountains by Enos A. Mills in his recently published "Rocky Mountain Woods." He says:

"A few timberline trees live a thousand years, but half this is a ripe old age for most of the timberline veterans. The age of these trees cannot be judged by their size or by their general appearance. There may be centuries of difference in the ages of two arm-in-arm trees of similar size. I examined two trees that were growing within a few yards of each other in the shelter of a crag. One was 14 feet high and 16 inches in diameter, and had 337 annual rings. The other was seven feet high and five inches in diameter, and had lived four hundred and ninety-two years."

One day, by the sunny and sheltered side of a boulder, I found a tiny seed bearer at an altitude of 11,800 feet. How splendidly inconspicuous it was of its size and its utterly wild surroundings! This brave pine bore a dainty cone, yet a drinking glass would have completely housed both the tree and its fruit.—Youth's Companion.

Stage Door Johnnies Passing.

All this stuff about the Johnnies being lined up at the stage door of the musical shows waiting for the chorus to appear is buncombe. Take it from a front row girl. She says the chaps at the stage door is a thing of the past and that the only thing in the alley to greet them at 11:30 o'clock is an empty ash barrel. The telephone and movies are responsible. There are no more crush notes and Reggie is not there with his gasoline cart, either. Neither are there any more matinee idols. "It is not so much fun as it used to be," she admits. "Nowadays we make all our dates by telephone, so the old romance is gone. So, too, are the smash notes."—New York Letter to the Pittsburg Dispatch.

Duck Turned Into Soap.

At the State university museum in Lincoln, Neb., is the body of a duck that has turned largely into soap. This is the first known specimen of the kind. Doctor Walcott explains the phenomenon by saying that the duck was fat and that the water, alkali and hot sun simply made soap of that portion of the duck that was susceptible of being so transformed.

FAMOUS OLD CABIN

Early Home of President of the United States.

North Bend, Ohio, is Known in History as Having Contained the Residence of Gen. William Henry Harrison.

The home of Gen. William Henry Harrison, at North Bend, which he maintained all through the years of his public services, and to which he retired when in private life, was really in part a log cabin. One who was a guest there in 1846 describes it as a long, rambling structure, part two stories in height, but mostly with one story, with the wide front facing the Ohio river, from which it stood back about three hundred yards.

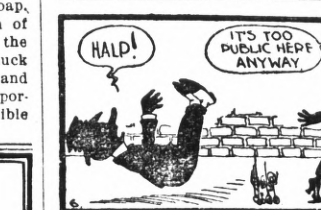

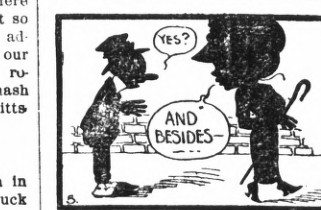

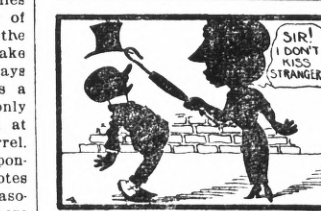

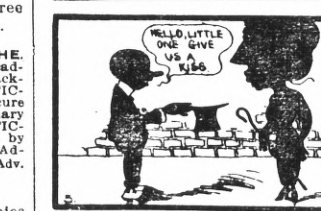

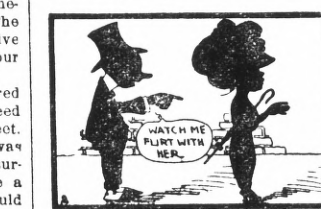

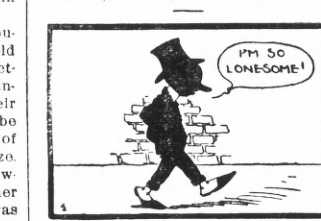

There were nine rooms in all on the ground floor, says the Columbus Dispatch, and one of these—a large one—was the log portion, it evidently having been originally a log cabin standing by itself, but the owner had built additions to it as need was felt and means permitted, until he had quite a pretentious country residence. The whole of the exterior had been covered with clapboards—sawed boards being too expensive in those days—and the clapboards were painted white. Seen from the river at the bend, it is said to have presented a very beautiful aspect, the white building in its setting of green in summer being particularly striking.

In this log cabin portion of his residence General Harrison often entertained companies of friends, and cider was the beverage used at these dinners. This hospitality was famous just prior to the presidential campaign in which he led the Whigs, and the contest became known in political circles as the log cabin and hard cider campaign.

After the death of President Harrison, Mrs. Harrison returned to the old home at North Bend, and there spent the rest of her life. General Harrison owned a large farm, and it was managed by his son-in-law, W. H. H. Taylor.

Mrs. Harrison, who was a daughter of Judge J. C. Symmes and was born in New Jersey, lived to be eighty-nine years old, her death occurring in 1864, near the close of the Civil war. Her body lies buried beside that of her distinguished husband in the soil of the old farm, where in all probability a suitable monument will soon be erected by the joint efforts of the nation and the state of Ohio.

What to Do for Itching Skins

Eczema, ringworm and other itching, burning skin eruptions are so common that one has to be very careful. There is one method, however, that you need not hesitate to use, even if it is a baby's tender skin. That is the Resinol treatment. Resinol is the prescription of a Baltimore doctor, put up in the form of resinsol ointment and resinsol soap. This proved so remarkably successful, that thousands of other physicians have pre-empted it constantly for over twenty years.

Resinol usually stops itching instantly, leading the eruption quickly, unless it is due to some serious internal disorder. Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap can be bought at any drug store, and are not at all expensive. Write for free sample, Dept. 68, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.—ADV.

SAVING HIS DOG. A Pomaranian, when his ship, the Canastota, was sunk by a German submarine, the captain is to receive a silver medal from the National Canine Defense League. The facts show that when the crew had taken to the boats the dog fell into the water and started to swim. The captain, who was a dog lover, saw the dog and rescued it just as it reached the submarine. The commander of the submarine said: "I made up my mind to blow up your boat, but now you save the little dog." The dog was saved by the rescue of the dog. The captain swam back with the little animal sitting on his shoulder.

"For the cause that lacks assistance,
Against the wrong that needs resistance,
For the future in the distance,
And the good that we can do."

There is such a thing as working a political scare too much. The "Otis-DeYoung" bugaboo to keep organized labor in line is becoming "musty."

Registration of voters with party affiliations will be carried out in this county. Most all the county clerks in the State will register party lines, regardless of the Johnson legislative ukase of non-partisanship.

The estates of the late Elbert Hubbard and wife who went down on the Lusitania were declared at $400,000 and $35,000 respectively, these amounts being divided equally between the two children, Elbert and Miriam.

Life, like war, is a series of mistakes, and he is not the best Christian nor the best general who makes the fewest false steps. He is the best who wins the most splendid victories by the retrieval of mistakes. Organize victory out of mistakes. - Robertson.

The Richmond water commission appropriated $3500 to defray the expenses of the recent report made by J. H. Dockweiler. Expert Dockweiler included in his report the Sacramento river filtration project, which was twice turned down by Richmond taxpayers and water consumers.

Hon. E. B. Martinelli, who once held the reins of Senator for the Marin-Contra Costa district, is just as good as nominated by the Republicans. His name is received favorably everywhere. In 1916 it is Marin county's turn for Senator and Mr. Martinelli is assured of his county's endorsement.

H. O. Watson of this city, for Member of the Assembly of the California legislature, is mentioned as available legislative timber, and will run very strong in Richmond, the end of the county which pays most taxes. Mr. Watson is connected with the Standard Oil company on the clerical force, a strong Republican in politics who would vote as the People in this district instruct him on county affairs.

Ye Town Gossip

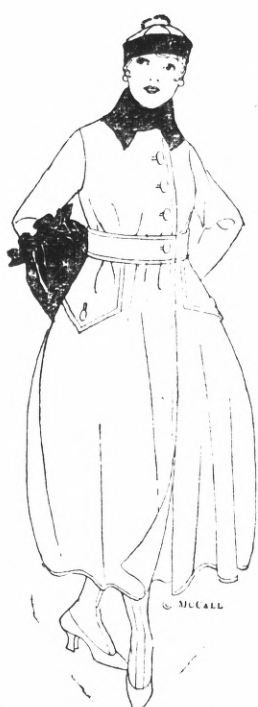

By O. S. L.
(With apologies to Q. D. P.)

I visited the Point this week
I walked through the tunnel,
And saw the splendid
Improvements of the harbor.
It will sure look grand
When it is finished.
I visited the city jail also;
We have the best police
And fire system in the country.
I walked around and
I saw our honorable
Mayor Garrard and
He said fifty cents
Dues per month is good
Enough for the Chamber of Commerce; yes the Chamber of Commerce is
A good thing providing it is
Nonpartisan and nonsectarian.
Richmond was not flooded
Much during the late rains,
And the subway was
Well taken care of
Under the supervision of
Chas. F. Donnelly of Oakland Traction Co.

It is rumored around town
That we get busy for storm
Sewers; although this
Happens once in awhile
We should get busy on our
Harbor, and help the city
Get more factories and also
Have everything prepared for a
Naval base and academy;
So let's all get together and
Boost and let the slogan
Be for 1920
Fifty thousand or more.

I THANK YOU.

Advertising Pays.

The common supposition that advertising is an expense is a fallacy. It is a bugaboo made of thin air and a yellow streak. The fact of the matter is, that the non-advertiser PAYS for it out of the business he loses to competitors who do advertise.

War and Social Changes.
"War," says Emerson, "passes the power of all chemical solvents, breaking up the old adhesions and allowing the atoms of society to take a new order." That this was presciently true of our own war is the opinion of Professor Fred Lewis Pattee in his "History of American Literature Since 1870." "The change wrought by the war," he says, "was far more than a rise of new activities and a shifting of population. A totally new America grew from the ashes of the great conflict. In 1870 there had been no such thing as provincial and self-conscious New York city was an enormously overgrown village, and Boston, Philadelphia and Charleston were almost as individual and as unlike each other as they had been in the days of the Revolution. There had been nothing to fuse the sections together and to bring them to a common vision. Until 1870 there had been no passion force enough to stir to the very center of their lives all of the people, to melt them into a homogeneous mass and to pour them forth into the mold of a new individual soul among the nations."

The Better Judge.
Some years ago the oldham amateurs were producing one of Handel's oratorios, under the personal tuition and conductorship of the late Sir Charles Halle. Among the orchestra was the famous and gigantic bassoon player, George Seal of Ashton-under-Lyne. At the rehearsal Halle went to George and, indicating several bars for the bassoon, told him not to play them on the night of the performance. George was inwardly boiling with indignation, but said nothing. On the night of the performance George played the banned music. When the affair was over Halle went up to Seal in a great rage and, pointing to the notes, said, "I told you to leave them out, didn't I?"
"Aye, you did," said George, "but Handel told me to put them in, an' he were a better judge than you."—London Answers.

Washington's Home.
Mount Vernon, historically the most interesting of all American mansions, was erected in 1743 for Lawrence Washington, the half brother of George, and so named in honor of Admiral Edward Vernon, R. N., under whose command Lawrence Washington had served during the British expedition against Cartagena in 1741. The property passed into the hands of George after the death of Lawrence in 1752, and the house was later improved and enlarged. When Mrs. Washington died in 1802 Mount Vernon became, in accordance with Washington's will, the property of his nephew, Bushrod Washington, who in turn bequeathed it to his nephew, John Augustine Washington, from whom it passed to a son of the same name, and in 1858 it was purchased from him by the Mount Vernon Ladies' association.

Took Away the Sting.
A pleasant report was that given by Admiral Mieschen at a dinner in Malta several years ago. It was given on the Fourth of July by him to the American officers on a man-of-war, and all the English officers in the harbor were guests. They were no better bred than many Englishmen of that day, for when the regular toast, "The day we celebrate," was read, they set down their glasses astir. The toast was then added gently, "The day, gentlemen, when England celebrates the coming of age of her eldest daughter." Every face cleared, and the toast was drunk with hearty cheers. Wit never finds its way to the mark so swiftly as when aimed with kindness and good will.

Dumas and a Duke.
Dumas on the day before the production of his "Henri III" called on the Duc d'Orleans and practically demanded that the latter attend the performance. The duke, amused, declared it impossible, as he had a dinner party invited to his home. But Dumas, armed with abundant brass and determination, suggested that the dinner be set an hour ahead and the play begun an hour later so that the entire party might attend. Dumas had reserved all the grand circle in anticipation of his success in the encounter, and the duke owned himself routed and did as he was "ordered."

Legend of the Pearl.
The ancient inhabitants of India had a very pretty superstition concerning the origin of pearls. They believed that at certain seasons Buddha showered dewdrops upon the world, which the oyster, floating on the waters to breathe, received and held until they hardened and became pearls.

Business and Pleasure.
"We want to keep business out of politics," said the reformer.
"Well," replied Senator Sorghum, "you've taken all the pleasure out of it. If you take all the business out of it, too, I don't see what's going to be left."—Washington Star.

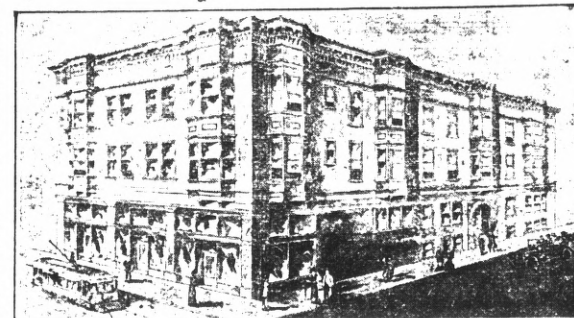

Wandering of Minor Planets.
The "misplacing" of the minor planets is sometimes due to their actually failing to keep their appointments at the places where, according to calculation, they ought to be. An instance is the case of No. 153, otherwise known as Hilda. Dr. Palisa discovered her in 1875 and calculated her orbit. But attempts to find her again failed, and she was almost given up as lost until Dr. Palisa found her again in 1879—a long way, however, from where she had been expected. The discrepancy was caused by the effect upon Hilda of the attraction of Jupiter, of whom she is a comparatively near neighbor. For these little planets are scattered over a wide belt. Hilda gets within 83,000,000 miles of the orbit of Jupiter, and Aethra at times actually comes nearer to the sun than Mars ever does.—London Chronicle.

Bean Ballots.
Black beans and white beans were used by the ancients in gathering the votes of the people for the election of magistrates. A white bean signified a "yes" and a black one a "no." When a politician failed to get elected he literally had "spilled the beans."
